Group Members: _____

THE CRAAP TEST

LEARNING INTENTION: I can evaluate the reliability of a source of information.

CRITERIA	Evaluation of source of information (0 – Worst, 5 - BEST
Currency: How timely is the source of information? ❒ When was it published? ❒ Date last updated?	0 1 2 3 4 5 |----|----|----|----|----|
Relevance: Is the information important to your research/question? ❒ Does it help answer your question? ❒ Does it help develop a new question related to your original one? ❒ How much does it help you expand/broaden your understanding of your topic? ❒ Does it help you find a new related point of research for your topic?	0 1 2 3 4 5 |----|----|----|----|----|
Authority: Is the person who wrote the information credible/reliable/an expert on the topic? ❒ Who is the author/publisher/source/sponsor of this information source? ❒ Are they an expert on the topic? ❒ What is the author's background/credentials/qualifications/organization he or she belongs to? ❒ Is the author's contact information available? Name? E-email address? Publisher name? Twitter handle? Other contact information?	0 1 2 3 4 5 |----|----|----|----|----|
Accuracy: The Reliability, Truthfulness, Objectiveness, and Correctness of the information. ❒ Is the information SUPORTED by evidence/facts? ❒ Can you verify the information with a secondary source? ❒ Does the language and tone of the information source seem unbiased, objective, and free of emotion or personal opinions? ❒ Are there any BIASES? ❒ Are there spelling, grammar, or typographical errors?	0 1 2 3 4 5 |----|----|----|----|----|
Purpose: The Reason The Information Exists ❒ Is the author's intentions for giving the information clear? ❒ What is the purpose of the information: to inform, teach, sell, entertain, or persuade? ❒ Is the information primarily facts, opinions, or propaganda?	0 1 2 3 4 5 |----|----|----|----|----|

Remember that the website extension (.org, .edu, .com, .gov, etc.) is NOT a guarantee of credibility!